

American Journal of French Studies

CALL FOR SHORT PAPERS

1st PRIZE FOR BEST AUTHOR: $250

Often, personal writings do not see the light of day. Those who wish to write and share their personal stories in French are limited by the lack of avenues in the United States. It is now possible with the American Journal of French Studies. We offer a platform to let students talk about their own lives, their dreams, their ideals, how they view their school, their neighborhood, their city, or state. We are looking for original contributions written in French which could help others to pursue their personal, professional and academic endeavors.

The American Journal of French Studies (AJFS) is pleased to announce that all the contributions accepted will be published.

All formats are welcome: personal stories, academic papers, poems, theater pieces, short novels, etc.

Contributions should be:

- Between 100 (minimum) and 1000 words (maximum)
- Submitted to the following email address: editor@american-journal-of-french-studies.com
- Sent by Friday, March 22nd 2019
- Preceded by the following information: 'Name (last, first)'